Council urged to erect plaque in memory of comedian Rik

A PETITION has been started calling for a blue plaque to be placed at the home where Harlow-born comedian Rik Mayall lived for the first three years of his life.

Mr Mayall died on Monday at the age of 56. It is thought he may have suffered a seizure.

He was born in Matching Tye on March 7, 1958, the second of four children. His father, John, taught at Mark Hall School. When Rik was three the family moved to Droitwich Spa in Worcestershire where he spent the rest of his childhood.

Residents took to social media to make the plea for a plaque and a petition has been launched on website www.change.org.

After attending The King's School, Worcester, he went to the University of Manchester in 1976 to study drama. It was while there he befriended his future comedy partner Ade Edmondson.

He also met Ben Elton and Lise Mayer, with whom he co-wrote The Young Ones.

He leaves a wife, Barbara, and three children - Rosie, 27, Sid, 25, and Bonnie, 20.

Comedian John Mann, who ran comedy nights at The Square in Harlow, said: "I have bumped into Rik on many occasions in the last 20 years at awards dos and TV studios and had talked with him a few times. Like every other person who knew him I found him to be nothing short of charming."

M&S to shut town centre store

HAVE YOUR SAY

Would you continue to shop at Marks & Spencer if it is given permission to open a new store?

www.harlowstar.co.uk

MARKS & Spencer is planning to close its "poorly performing" store in Broad Walk and open a Simply Food outlet at an out-of-town retail park.

The company is seeking permission to use the unit adjacent to Cineworld at the Queensgate Centre in Edinburgh Way - until recently occupied by Wren Living - for the sale of food, drink and other goods. It is also looking to open a cafe on the site.

Last year M&S refused to comment when the Star reported it was considering shutting its Harvey Centre store. But now the company has revealed its intentions in two planning applications submitted to Harlow Council. Documents submitted as part of the application state: "M&S proposals at Harlow differ from other new Simply Food stores in that their intention is to open a new Simply Food store concurrently with closing their poorly performing town centre store.

"This reflects that, based on their town centre store trading experience and assessment of catchment area potential, M&S have concluded that Harlow cannot sustain a successful M&S general merchandise (i.e. non-food) offer but has the potential for a successful Simply Food business."

A spokesman for the Harvey Centre, which is currently undergoing a multi-million pound refurbishment, described the news as "disappointing".

"We are aware that M&S has submitted a planning application to relocate to another site. This is obviously disappointing news, especially as we are investing so much in the centre to ensure it remains a modern vibrant attraction.

"In recent months we have been trying to open discussions with them about their changing business requirements but without success. We would still welcome this opportunity.

"The owners of the Harvey Centre are committed to ensuring that the centre maintains its status as a key element of the town centre."

He added: "We will be making representations about the planning application to the council in due course but Government policy requires that retail should be accommodated in town centres wherever possible and we will be asking the council to reinforce this policy."

An M&S spokeswoman said: "This is something we have given a great deal of consideration. We understand that some customers will be disappointed that we are proposing to relocate the store but we believe the Queensgate Centre is the best location for an M&S store.

"Harlow is important to us. We want to stay in the town and we want to do that in a store that is fit for the future of M&S.

M&S to close its town centre shop

"The new store will give our customers a much bigger M&S food offer and an improved shopping experience, including a new 50-seat M&S cafe and free parking."

Harlow MP Robert Halfon said: "Marks and Spencer closure is bad news. The most important thing, however, is jobs and I hope that if M&S do open at the Queensgate Centre jobs are maintained and everyone who has a job in the current store will be offered a job in the new one."

"Regeneration of Broad Walk and Market Square should be a top priority for the council, though it is good that the Harvey Centre managers are committed to serious investment in our shopping areas."

Labour parliamentary candidate Suzy Stride said: "My biggest concern is possible loss of jobs and I hope this can be avoided. Local businesses have already expressed concern to me over the loss and the knock-on effect of possible reduction of footfall for other businesses in the town centre."

"I am also concerned about the lack of public transport to the retail park, meaning some residents will no longer be able to access it. As anyone who has been there knows, parking is already an issue. This needs to be addressed if there is to be an influx of cars to the area."

Star readers shared their views on our Facebook page. Sue Eubel said: "Terrible news for an already flagging town centre. Harlow has nothing to draw people in from out of town."

Joy Hale commented: "I do feel for the older people I see in there who may find it difficult to get to the Queensgate Centre if they don't drive."

And Richard James said: "I never use the town centre store as the food section is too small and parking is a pain. I will definitely use the new Simply Food as long as the opening hours are good."

Falklands cop spends a week on the beat in Harlow

HARLOW'S neighbourhood policing team welcomed a new member to its ranks this week.

Falkland Islands officer PC Asa Cairns, spent a week in the town learning about neighbourhood policing.

The officer, who comes from Harlow, said: "In the Falklands we have a very small town so a small community. I've been working with PC Rob Hance and with the neighbourhood policing team for six shifts and getting ideas and suggestions on how Essex Police organise their neighbourhood policing."

"It's been brilliant. There are a lot of differences but also a lot of similarities, especially in how strong the team is here.

"It's been very educational and interesting. I'll be taking back lots of useful information with me."

PC Hance added: "We have held a couple of talks on neighbourhood policing and lots of foot patrols mainly around Bush Fair, Toddbrook and Passmores. We started the visit off with a drugs warrant which was a success and have done a range of things."

"It's been great to have Asa here and hear his stories about policing in the Falkland Islands."

Eye patients fear for the quality of service

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

EYE patients fear their treatment will suffer after Princess Alexandra Hospital announced it was ending its contract with the world-famous Moorfields Eye Hospital.

The Harlow hospital will continue to run an age-related macular degeneration service, which for the past five years has been supported by consultants from Moorfields.

But Mandy Smith, 54, who has been diagnosed with macular edema and diabetic retinopathy, is concerned the quality of the service will suffer.

Mandy, who is a member of Harlow Macular Support Group, has been using the service since it was launched. "I am not happy to lose the service from Moorfield, nor are many at the Harlow Macular Society," she said.

"When the group heard that the contract was being stopped everyone was really surprised, shocked and disappointed."

Mrs Smith, of Broad Eaves, Roydon, said that on the occasions she was not treated by a Moorfields consultant she was not as happy with the service she received.

WORRIED: Mandy and Kevin Smith with guide dog Holly

Her husband Kevin, 54, said: "It is about the quality of service. It's people's eyesight and if the quality is not there then understandably we are concerned."

PAH invested more than £500,000 in ophthalmology equipment last year and Jules Martin, chief operating officer for the Princess Alexandra Hospital NHS Trust, insisted the service would not suffer as a result of the change.

"This will not affect the service or care standards and will in fact enable increased clinics to be made available to treat more patients," she told the Star.

"I would like to take this opportunity to reassure the public that any changes which affect service provision within the trust will always undergo a full review and consultation. In this instance that was not necessary, but nevertheless all decisions taken have been, and will be, in the patient's best interests."

A spokeswoman for Moorfields said: "PAH has notified Moorfields that they will not be renewing their contract with us."

"We are pleased to have been able to contribute to a range of improvements in eye care for local people during this time, including the establishment of a high quality injection service for age-related macular degeneration, which meant that patients no longer had to travel into central London for this treatment as had previously been the case."

The contract with Moorfields will end in January.

Town Park pitch and putt was one of the best in the county

SIR Further to your report 'Plea to bring back pitch and putt' (Star, May 29), I would like to support John Mustafa in his campaign to restore the lost facility to the Town Park.

When it was in full swing it gave so much fun and enjoyment to thousands of people, especially families, on a Sunday afternoon. Its appeal was broad and there was no other pitch and putt course like it in Essex. What an asset it was to the status of the Town Park and to Harlow.

The infrastructure to restore this section of the park is still there for all to see. With the Golfwise brothers interested in reviving this beautiful space with their expertise and skills it shouldn't be too much upheaval to get it back.

It therefore came as a shock to read the leader of Harlow Council dismissing this possibility because it was unlikely the council would have the money available. If that's the case, would he explain what the council proposes to do with the £2.8m now in the pot from the Heritage Lottery Fund to improve the Town Park?

For this money not only could it provide the pitch and putt but throw in a refurbished Spurriers cafe which is standing empty with a full industrial-size kitchen inside. Or maybe the council prefers to consult outside consultants, contractors, designers, landscape gardeners and other agencies which, after all the fees are paid, will leave the park with a converted public lavatory posing as a tourist information centre.

Go for it, Mr Mustafa - bring back our glorious pitch and putt.

Patricia Byrne
Ladysnot, Harlow

Make it a dual carriageway

SIR Is it only me that thinks the highways authority should sort out the piece of road between Southern Way and The Clock Tower before they start messing about with the roundabout?

I think they should look to make it a dual carriageway. In its present form all the money they spent dualing the road from the Hastingwood roundabout was just a waste of money.

I travel on this road every day and most days the traffic is tailing all the way back to the M11 roundabout. Most of this is caused by drivers wanting to turn into Southern Way so this junction needs some improvements before they start works at the Clock Tower roundabout.

It's also about time they put the phasing of the traffic lights on the Hastingwood roundabout back to the original format. I think they have proved we need another junction into Harlow but until they work out where it will be going they should make what we have more workable.

Steve Coker
address supplied

Wasting cash on pinch points

SIR The way to relieve a blockage in a bottleneck is to first remove the cork.

The Clock Tower roundabout is not the cork, no more than was the road from the motorway to the Moat House roundabout or that roundabout itself. Those pinch point schemes have not solved the problem so why push ahead regardless?

If you have a photo taken in or around the town which you would like to feature in our Photo of the Week section, email a high resolution copy in JPEG format, along with a description of your photo and details of when and where it was taken, to star@hertsessexnews.co.uk. Include your name and address and insert 'Photo of the Week' in the subject line.

The blockage is the access to the town centre itself (and the exit to the A14 at Eastwick) and a major part of this blockage for incoming and through traffic is the bus lane along Second Avenue and the double sets of lights at the Leisurezone roundabout.

Before we throw away £4.2m on a scheme which will not work, could we not employ some experts to computer model the effects of the scheme that will simply add to the misery of trying to get into and out of Harlow. Cheaper still, for a trial period suspend the bus lane and switch off the double sets of lights by the Leisurezone. It will cost virtually nothing to see the result.

If this is a success, replace the lights with an underpass or overpass for pedestrians. Simple.

The root of the problem will remain, the fact that the M11 is on the wrong side of town and the only real answer would be a ring road made from a north and south M11 to the A14 west of Eastwick. However, this would be deemed to be too costly so the councils - local and county - will just keep wasting money by throwing it at pinch points.

Edward Vine
Fenton Grange, Harlow

We need to keep things local

SIR In response to the letters from Bill Rees and Dennis Nadin published in the Star, I 100 per cent agree with their views on the recent elections.

Party politics dominates too much locally and often gets muddled with what is happening in Westminster and Europe. I have never voted on the basis of what party a councillor is in, just what they stand for and going to do for my area.

When it comes to parliamentary elections you have to think about which party you are voting for, even though a good candidate may miss out. This voting trend is not just limited to Harlow but nationwide it seems.

Maybe last month's local elections were not helped by the European ones being held on the same day. The turnout wasn't overly sagat with people disillusioned with both local and national politics in general and apathy was the big winner again.

All I can say is to the people who didn't want to vote or couldn't be bothered to do so is don't complain if things in your local area aren't happening the way you want them too. You had a chance to make a stand and sometimes you have to choose between the lesser of two evils. Even if you spoil your ballot paper at least you have made some kind of statement.

On the whole we need to keep things local when it comes to voting and candidates should stand for the community and not play party politics.

Alex Plumb
Dads Wood, Harlow

Green spaces are an eyesore

SIR I do so hope that Harlow Council has made a huge financial saving by contracting Kier to undertake the maintenance of the green areas in the town. There can be no other explanation as to the dreadful sight we have to endure when out and about.

Year on year the green areas in the town have become more and more of an eyesore. Friends and family visiting are horrified at the sight they are greeted with. Comments have been made that prospective employers and residents will be put off from investing in a town that cares so little for itself.

The grass on the estate where I live has had only one cut this year. According to the council's website, grass in estates will be cut every 17 working days. After 25 working days (or 37 real time days) we are still waiting. When it does get cut it is so long (30-45cms) that large clumps of cut grass are left behind, turning brown and creating an even worse eyesore. As for trimming around lampposts etc, it doesn't happen. Direction signs are disappearing behind long grass and weeds.

We used to have a lovely town full of pleasant green spaces, well kept and pleasant to enjoy. I appreciate that councils are having a hard time trying to balance budgets, but a nice environment raises spirits and helps people respect their environment.

Don't miss the Tour de France

SIR We are just a few weeks away from the world's biggest free-to-watch sporting event that will pass within six miles of Harlow.

I refer, of course, to the Tour de France. On Monday, July 7 the third stage of this year's Tour will travel from Cambridge to London via the lovely Essex countryside. The nearest the stage passes to Harlow will be between Moreton and Epping.

You can see all of the race every day of its three week progress on TV, but to see it live on "our" roads is an opportunity not to be missed.

So why not join with us - Cycle Harlow and Stort Valley CTC - and ride from the Hub & Spoke cycle centre at Bush Fair to a roadside location to watch this extraordinary event. You might spot Mark Cavendish, Chris Froome or Bradley Wiggins amongst 200 of the world's finest road racers. Bring a picnic and be at Bush Fair for a 10am departure.

John Curry
Old Orchard, Harlow

No guarantees over new jobs

SIR Harlow is in the throws of the biggest investment it has had since the 1950s and will probably never get this level of investment again. Yet the suggested developments and infrastructure strategies are causing major concerns for current residents who live and work in the town.

For nearly a year we have been bombarded with news about meetings, groups, tours, ideas and of course what's on offer for the current local residents. All this information seems contradictory to a lot of what is being previously stated and terms like "an organic approach is being taken" does not provide any confidence.

What seems to be clear to me is that these strategies identify the number of housing and schools etc and investment figures and infrastructure requirements. What is unclear is how many jobs this will bring for all age groups and importantly for our own young workforce.

It is constantly publicised that 5,000 jobs will be created in Harlow. So is this an actual figure for residents to consider as part of the overall numbers being explained and sold to us to accept and seek our support?

Unfortunately it is not. The terms of the Enterprise Zone investments provided by the Government states that neither the council or Government can guarantee that any job must be provided by any new industry in this zone to current local residents. Not only this but the specialised industries being targeted for the zone are not industries for which Harlow's workforce is known to possess skills.

Do we know who these industries are and what they require or are we just hoping industries and jobs will come along and forced to accept we do not actually know if there will be any employment at all for our local workforce.

Perhaps when these actual local employment figures are provided, Harlow residents may see the benefits for current residents and their families. Only then may these projects and their instigators gain the support from Harlow residents to successfully reshape the town for the next 50 years.

Academy status for three schools

THREE primary schools in Harlow - including under-fire Longwood - will be taken over as academies and run under one headteacher.

NET Academy Trust have confirmed that they have been given the go-ahead to become academy sponsors of Longwood Primary & Nursery School in Paringdon Road, Latton Green Primary School in Riddings Lane and Abbotsweld Primary School in Partridge Road.

A spokesman for NET said: "NET Academy Trust have received ministerial approval to become academy sponsors for three Harlow schools. We will provide further information later in the school term."

Standards of education at Longwood were judged to be "unacceptably low" and a meeting was held for parents to discuss the school's future.

But the meeting was branded "a joke" by one parent who said none of her questions were answered.

Toni Meredith, who already has two sons at the school and her youngest due to start in September, said: "My two boys are doing well but my concern is with my youngest son who will be going to the school in September."

"The meeting was just a joke, they didn't really answer any questions apart from the fact that they were able to confirm Longwood is becoming an academy. We are just going to have to wait and see now."

A governor at the school, who asked not to be named and served on the school board for 12 years before being replaced with an interim executive board by Essex County Council in February, said: "Becoming an academy means more disruption but we knew that was the plan. The plan all along was to make the school fail on the organised inspection so that it could become an academy."

"We do have to move forward because if we don't, the kids will suffer. There is no guarantee that the academy will be better than any other school."

"They did give some answers at the meeting and their plan was supposed to get the school up faster than the governors could as they said we had not done enough but they have not done any better."

Latton Green Primary School was deemed by Ofsted as requiring special measures in October last year with the quality of teaching being judged as "inadequate".

Similarly to Latton Green and Longwood, in an Ofsted inspection in January this year, Abbotsweld was judged by the education watchdog as "requires improvement".

A GROUP of councillors and community representatives have held a meeting to discuss what can be done for Harlow's young people.

The project is being led by Mick Granger, former chairman of the Harlow Chocolate Run, who said: "It was a fantastic meeting and is the first step to creating something wonderful for the young people of Harlow."

"Our youth need something in the town and hopefully this group of people can help provide it."

The meeting was held at Passmore Academy. The group of about 15 people

Meeting turns a spotlight on town's youth services

discussed youth services in Harlow as well as what young people need within the community.

Suzy Stride, Labour's Parliamentary candidate for Harlow, also attended the meeting. She said: "We discussed how together we can mobilise and tap into the potential of Harlow's community to meet the need for youth services in Harlow. "It is so important we invest in the next generation. It is also important for the wider community that young people have safe places to hang out as this adds to the local community feeling safer."

"We are calling on people from across Harlow to get involved in this project, to volunteer their time or bring ideas to the table so that together we can invest in the next generation and build a stronger community."

Attack victim's jaw broken by gang of youths

POLICE in Harlow are hunting a gang of youths who attacked a man and left him with serious injuries which prevented him from reporting the assault for more than three weeks.

The victim, a 25-year-old man from Poland, told officers he was beaten up by a group of five or six boys on Friday, May 16.

During the brutal assault he was knocked unconscious and sustained a fractured jaw. He has only just completed treatment in hospital.

Detectives are now appealing for any witnesses or information about the attack which took place by the side of the Poundland store at Staple Tye between 4-6pm.

The victim, who was working in Harlow, was punched and kicked to the ground.

Anyone who remembers seeing a fight or assault in the area is urged to contact detectives at Harlow police station on the non-emergency 101 number (extension 300351).

Noisy neighbour taken to court for breaching order

A NOISY neighbour has had her audio equipment seized and ordered to pay £2,000 after being found guilty of breaching a noise abatement notice for the second time in three months.

Emma Cooke, of Arkwrights, Harlow, was originally served with a notice on July 1 last year following complaints from neighbours.

The notice required her to take steps to ensure she did not cause a noise nuisance.

However, on September 24 Harlow Council environmental health officers witnessed a breach of the noise and Ms Cooke was issued with a court summons. On March 5 she was found guilty and fined £100 and ordered to pay £1,000 in costs as well as a £20 victim surcharge.

A further offence took place when officers heard loud music and shouting coming from Ms Cooke's property after 11pm. The council obtained a court warrant which was executed with support from police.

Officers seized audio equipment including 11 speakers, a mini hi-fi system and a DVD player.

Ms Cooke indicated to the council she

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

was going to plead not guilty to the breach of the notice and the case was listed to be heard at Chelmsford Magistrates Court last Monday, but she did not turn up for the hearing.

The case against her was proved in her absence and she was fined £400 with £1,500 costs and a £40 victim surcharge.

The magistrates also granted the council a forfeiture order in respect of the equipment.

Speaking after the case, Councillor Phil Waite, portfolio holder for environment, said: "This case shows that people do not have to put up with their neighbours playing loud music and shouting late at night.

"Harlow's residents are entitled to enjoy their homes in peace and the council will act to protect that right where necessary.

"If anyone in Harlow is suffering because of noisy neighbours I would urge them to report it to the council so that we can help maintain a safe, healthy noise environment for everyone living and working in the town."

Dancers put on a show for shoppers

A DANCE showcase entertained shoppers in the Harvey Centre on Sunday raising money for the Citizen's Advice Bureau and Dance Fusion.

Organiser Lou Moon, who volunteered for the CAB and now manages their projects through her own business VA Toolbox, held the dance show to raise money for CAB's non-core essentials and also provide uniforms to Dance Fusion whose 80 young performers, led by Kerri-Ann Towsdale, provided shoppers with an hour-long show.

She said: "The event was absolutely brilliant. When the music and dancing started, the entire Harvey Centre was filled with cheers. They raised the roof."

Emma Seward, outreach and recruitment officer at Anglia Ruskin, said: "These young people are approaching a crossroads in their lives and it is important they make the correct decision on how to go forward.

"The bus offers visitors a taste of what life at university is like and is a relaxed and friendly environment for students to ask questions about higher education."

The bus will be visiting Harlow next Thursday.

Campaign to persuade more young people to become blood donors

A SHORTAGE of young blood donors in Essex has prompted a plea for more volunteers to stave off a future shortage in life-saving supplies.

The percentage of donors in the 17-24 age group in both counties is below the national average, according to NHS Blood and Transplant which has launched a campaign to encourage more people to "get off the bench" and start giving.

The need for more people to give blood is also intensified as donations are expected to be disrupted during the World Cup, starting today (Thursday).

In Essex there are 5,745 donors in the 17-24 age group (13.4 per cent). Yet young donors are crucial to ensuring there is a robust donor base for years to come in order to protect the future supply.

Each year 200,000 new donors are required to attend a donation session to replace those who can no longer give for health or other reasons.

Jon Latham, assistant director for donor services and marketing at NHS Blood and Transplant, said: "Our blood donors make up the greatest team in the world and we're grateful to each and every one of them, including new donors registering this year."

"We're issuing a call-up for more to come forward because we know blood donation falls off the to-do list during hot weather, summer holidays, and big public events like the World Cup."

While overall blood use within the NHS has fallen due to improvements in clinical practice and NHS Blood and Transplant's work with hospitals, the need for donations continues. More than 7,000 people need to attend a session every day to ensure the right amount is collected to meet patient needs.

For more information about giving blood, visit www.blood.co.uk or call 0300 1232323.

I'm not a monster insists Barrymore in TV interview

GEMMA GARDNER

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

FORMER TV entertainer Michael Barrymore has admitted he feels "some responsibility" for the death of Harlow man Stuart Lubbock at his home 13 years ago.

Appearing on a celebrity special of The Jeremy Kyle Show on Monday, 62-year-old Mr Barrymore spoke openly about his troubled past including the time he came out as gay and the death of father-of-two Mr Lubbock, whose body was found floating in the swimming pool at the star's luxury home in Roydon in March 2001.

A post-mortem examination revealed Mr Lubbock, 31, of Great Brays, had suffered serious internal injuries suggestive of sexual assault. Traces of ecstasy, cocaine and alcohol were also found in his bloodstream.

A coroner later recorded an open verdict at his inquest, but the scandal effectively ended Mr Barrymore's career in showbusiness.

A police investigation revealed Mr Lubbock had gone to Mr

Barrymore's house in Beaumont Park Road after meeting him at a nightclub in Harlow.

Although three people – including Mr Barrymore – were arrested and questioned in June 2007 in relation to Mr Lubbock's death, no charges have ever been brought.

In the talk show broadcast on Monday, Mr Barrymore told Kyle that when he saw Mr Lubbock's body in the pool he froze.

"I ran back into the house to get help and then the two boys started giving CPR. The ambulance was called for and that in turn calls the police. I was in complete shock."

"The first thing I did wasn't run away, the first thing I did was run to get help."

Quizzed about media coverage of the case, he said: "They did wipe out my career but they did not wipe me out. I'm still here."

On whether he felt some responsibility for Mr Lubbock's death, he said: "I feel responsible for inviting people back to my house that night and I shouldn't have done. I didn't know who they were."

"I know [Mr Lubbock's] dad is again very angry and upset and wants answers, of course he does. But whatever has happened to me, never forget the most important thing is them losing their loved one."

"The death of Stuart, that goes above everything. I've just lost a career and if that's the price to pay then fine."

When Kyle suggested to Barrymore he had been vilified more than most, Mr Barrymore replied: "I think I had a lot to do with it. I think I gave them [the press] a lot on a plate when I should have gone for the second thought instead of the first thought."

"I'm not a monster. I don't deserve to have had done to me what I've had done but it's happened, so I just get on with my life."

He added he was in the middle of preparing a case against Essex Police for wrongful arrest.

Lewsey

THE father of a young girl diagnosed with a rare genetic disease is gearing up to cycle 325 miles over four days to raise money for the charity that supported her.

Ground worker Ben Lewsey, 24, of Sibneys Green, Harlow, will cycle from Ware to Land's End with his brother, Dan Lewsey, 20, and friend Martyn Hall, 20, a cleaning operative.

The trio will be raising money for Kisses4Kids after the charity organised a trip to Disneyland for Ben's two-year-old daughter Skye.

Despite the condition Skye, according to her dad, is the "happiest child in the world, communicative, responsive and very sociable".

The group will also be raising money for the MPS society, a charity supporting individuals and families affected by MPS and other related diseases.

Ben said: "Kisses4Kids provide toys and special equipment for children's wards in local hospitals and send families with ill children on holiday and for special treats.

"Riding is our passion and I wanted to do something positive with that to raise funds for two charities that have helped and supported my family so much.

"We wanted to give something back so that Kisses4Kids and the MPS society can continue with the wonderful work that they do and continue to support other families like us.

"We have an initial target of £1,000 but every little helps and we want to raise as much as possible."

Sara Evans, of Kisses4Kids said: "When Ben told us what he wanted to do we were amazed. That another one of our families has been so inspired by [Kisses4Kids founder] Stacey is heartwarming and we are so grateful to him and his family."

Woman denies torching council home 'because she didn't like it'

A COUNCIL tenant accused of setting fire to her home two weeks after she moved in because she did not like it appeared in court on Tuesday accused of arson.

The blaze in the ground floor maisonette at Quarry Spring, Harlow, caused £13,000 worth of damage.

Leesa Wenman, 32, pleads not guilty to a charge of arson with intent to endanger life and an alternative offence of arson being reckless as to whether life would be endangered.

Carolyn Gardiner, prosecuting at Chelmsford Crown Court, said Wenman moved into the premises in June last year but she was not happy.

On the afternoon of the fire Wenman argued with a neighbour and her nephew. At about 8.30pm she said she was going in for the night and asked to borrow a cigarette lighter.

"A few minutes later a fire alarm went off" said Ms Gardiner. "Neighbours smelled smoke, it smelled like plastic was burning. They realised Wenman's flat was on fire."

It took the firefighters half-an-hour to extinguish the blaze in Wenman's bedroom. The jury was told Wenman had left her home through a window and not the front door. She had gone to a friend's.

When police arrested her there Wenman did not ask any questions about the fire or damage to her home, but denied she had started it.

"This defendant had motive," said Ms Gardiner. "She didn't want to move, she had fallen out with her neighbours and her nephew. We say nobody else could have got in in that timeline and set fire to that property and nobody else would have wanted to."

Giving evidence, neighbour Kerry Roche told the court that within a week of moving in Wenman said she did not like living there because she did not get on with one of the neighbours.

The jury heard evidence that two fires were started in the bedroom. There were burn marks on the floorboards and skirting board. Although the blaze did not spread from the main bedroom but there was smoke and heat damage in other rooms on the same floor.

The trial continues.

District Scouts honoured with Queen's award

THE Scouting movement in Harlow has been named as one of the recipients of this year's Queen's Award for Voluntary Service.

Harlow District Scouts, which is made up of number of troupes with more than 800 members, is the only voluntary organisation in Essex to pick up the honour, which was created to mark the Queen's golden jubilee back in 2002.

District Commissioner Ann Nutt said: "It's absolutely brilliant. This recognises the contribution of all our volunteers."

She added: "The fact that Harlow District Scouts were the only group to be given the award in Essex makes it even more special."

Founded in 1910, the Harlow district covers the whole of the town and the villages of Nazeing and Roydon.

The organisation aims to "actively engage and support young people in their personal development, empowering them to make a positive contribution to society".

Despite the award Scout troops throughout the district are still in need of new volunteer leaders, which will help ease waiting lists and give the movement the chance to grow.

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

"We have around 500 young people in Harlow in Scouting, and have waiting lists in all parts of the town in all sections of scouting," Ms Nutt added. "We do need more leaders, scouting has changed a lot and it is a lot about activities and adventures like mountaineering and shooting."

Lord Petre, the Lord Lieutenant of Essex, said: "I am delighted Her Majesty has awarded the Queen's Award for Voluntary Services to the Harlow District Scouts."

"The leadership of the district scouts is inspirational with steady growth over the past five years and planned, ambitious, future growth that looked realistic and achievable. They are worthy winners."

Anyone interested in becoming a leader can find out more on the website at www.essexscouts.org.uk/districts/harlow.

Babies at PAH at 'no risk' from food drip scare

HARLOW hospital chiefs have reassured parents that no babies in the PAH maternity unit have been placed at risk from suspected contaminated drips blamed for a spate of blood poisoning cases across the UK.

PAH confirmed it did not use the product associated with incidents reported last week and said it was confident babies in the hospital's neonatal unit have not at any point been at risk of contamination.

Professor Nancy Fontaine, director of nursing and quality for the Princess Alexandra Hospital NHS Trust, said:

"Following the declared incidents on contaminated food in neonatal units, the Princess Alexandra Hospital NHS Trust immediately carried out a full internal audit of all equipment and nutritional supplies, not just in the neonatal intensive care unit but across the hospital."

John takes delivery of hippy-themed AA van

AN AA patrolman is one of only five to have been chosen to drive one of the rescue organisation's 'hippy' vans as part of the its summer campaign.

John McCarthy, 34, of Staple Tye, will be seen behind the wheel of the 1960s-themed vehicle which has been decorated with a floral design for the company's Summer Saviours campaign.

Residents who spot one of the vans and tweet the AA - @TheAA_UK - using the #AAhippyvan hashtag with the location and time they saw the vehicle will be entered into a draw to win a prize. The prize for this month will be pairs of tickets to Glorious Goodwood.

People can also enter the competition by re-tweeting #AAhippyvan tweets sent from The AA.

John, pictured left, who collected the van last week, said: "It's not too subtle so I'm hoping it will generate lots of interest."

"You can never guarantee the summer weather but hopefully the van will guarantee a lot of smiles on the roads when people see me."

"We know that many of our members will be planning to get out and about this summer and we're here to help them make the most of it."

Conman posing as police officer steals £150 from pensioner

DETECTIVES have warned elderly people to be on their guard after a thief posing as a police officer tricked his way into a woman's home in Harlow.

The incident happened at Hare Street Springs on Thursday (June 5) at about 5.15pm. The trickster stole a purse containing £150 from the victim, who is in her 80s.

He knocked at the front door, said he was a police officer and claimed that a suspect had been seen in the woman's back garden.

He was shown through to the back door and pretended to search the garden. He then said he would check all the windows. He asked the victim to check her valuables and purse - and then to go to her back door.

While she was distracted he grabbed the purse and ran out of the house through the front door.

The man was white, about 5ft 8in tall and aged in his 20s or 30s. He was wearing a tan-coloured T-shirt, blue jeans and a black waistcoat with high visibility stripes.

Anyone with information should call Harlow CID on 101 or call Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Man called officer a 'f***** immigrant' after losing temper

A YOUNG man who admitted racially abusing a Nigerian-born officer at Occasio House in Harlow town centre has been placed on 12 months supervision and fined £50.

Chelmsford Magistrates Court was told Jake Keane, 19, called Ebiniyi Anise a "f***** immigrant" after complaining about loud music coming from another resident's flat.

He also asked him: "If you hold a British passport why do you have your type of accent?"

Ian Allen, prosecuting, said at 1.10am on April 17 Keane complained to Mr Anise about loud music coming from another flat. When he was unable to contact the occupier of the flat, Mr Anise suggested Keane contact the police but Keane swore at him and told him he didn't know how to do his job properly.

Mr Allen said Keane then racially abused Mr Anise before banging on the desk with his fist.

Keane pleaded guilty to a charge of racially aggravated harassment. Andrew Clowser, representing Keane, said in mitigation he had "lost his temper" after facing the prospect of a sleepless night.

Keane was fined £50 with £50 costs and a £60 victim surcharge and ordered to complete 12 months of supervision.

Union members stage protest at hospital over 'derisory' pay award

UNION members at Princess Alexandra Hospital staged a lunchtime demonstration on Thursday to protest over NHS pay.

Public services union UNISON - which represents nurses, paramedics and healthcare assistants - said the action was to show the anger of its members.

According to the union, the NHS pay review body announcement means that staff at the top of their incremental scale will only receive a one per cent non-consolidated increase, leaving 60 per cent of staff without a pay rise this year.

Sam Older, UNISON organiser for the eastern region, said:

"Our national health conference last month heard from speaker after speaker angry at the Government's decision to give a derisory one per cent non-consolidated increase.

"Following this conference UNISON is now in the process of balloting members in the NHS with the potential to strike."

PAH nurse and union branch secretary Wanda Forman said: "We're not asking members to strike over one per cent. We're saying strike for a pay award that starts to restore the value of your pay and fight for a living wage for all, because a demoralised and de-motivated workforce is not good for patients."

Doctor's failings 'presented a risk to patient safety'

A DOCTOR who worked in the A&E department at Princess Alexandra Hospital until he was suspended has been struck off after a medical panel ruled his clinical failings presented a risk to patient safety.

A Medical Practitioners Tribunal Service fitness to practise panel held in Manchester was told Dr Fazal Haque made a string of clinical errors relating to his treatment of patients at the Harlow hospital between 2009 and 2011.

The most serious failings related to his treatment of a 17-month-old baby who had been taken to the department with convulsions. The panel was told Dr Haque failed to properly examine the child, potentially exposing the tot to further convulsions and possible permanent brain damage.

The panel also heard about one incident when the Muslim doctor washed his bare feet in a consultation room basin as a patient looked on. When the patient asked him what he was doing Dr Haque told him to "shut up".

Dr Haque was later caught with the shift manager's written record of the incident. He said he did not want it to go any further and that he had been rushing to wash before sunrise.

The panel was told the incident formed part of a pattern of inappropriate behaviour towards colleagues and patients in the hospital's emergency department.

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

The panel heard he told another member of staff she was "the rudest person in the department" and claimed she was "always racist" to another nurse. He also fell out with hospital employees, bickered with doctors, was aggressive towards nurses and called patients rude in their medical notes.

He was eventually suspended from the hospital on full pay in July 2011 with instructions not to work anywhere else. However, he took locum shifts in the emergency department of the Weston General Hospital in Somerset.

Panel chairman Michele Codd said: "The panel is of the view that given Dr Haque's deficient professional performance and misconduct, and in particular his persistent dishonesty, it is not in the public interest to retain him in the future as a medical practitioner."

Mrs Codd also said his widespread clinical failings presented a risk to patient safety, adding: "The public interest requires that it is made clear that Dr Haque's behaviour is unacceptable. The panel considers that the reputation of the profession would be eroded if it were not to erase Dr Haque's name from the registrar."

Dr Haque, who was not present or represented at the hearing, has 28 days to appeal the decision.

Atmosphere at Sport Aid was 'fantastic'

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

It was a charity event like no other. And after it was featured in Nostalgia, reader David Bells brought in his own photos of the Sport Aid 10km which was held in Harlow.

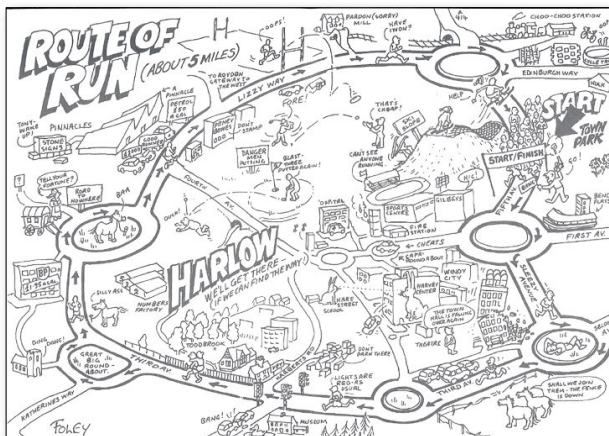

David, of Long Banks, was one of hundreds who took part in the Sport Aid run - a global event to raise funds for famine relief in Africa - in the town on Sunday, May 25, 1986. He said the atmosphere on the day was "fantastic".

"I have done quite a few fun runs," the 61-year-old said. "I took part in the first Harlow Marathon, the Great North Run and the Mark Hall run to name a few."

"The atmosphere at Run the World was fantastic. There must have been hundreds taking part in Harlow. We started and finished in the town park."

"There was music going - the Everybody Wants to Rule the World song which they changed to Everybody Wants to Run the World and that was playing. I was on my own but it was great fun."

And David also had the opportunity to meet the legendary Boomtown Rats who played at the Odeon Cinema as part of the aid-celebrations.

He added: "It was in the 80s in the Odeon Cinema and the Boomtown Rats were playing. I got to go backstage, and it was brilliant."

As well as photos from the day, David also brought in his certificate - something that was presented to every runner that took part acknowledging that they had officially "ran the world". The runner also brought in a map of the Run the World Harlow event.

The cartoon-style map shows a lot of Harlow's attractions that are now memories from a bygone era including the ski slope, the pitch and putt as well as the cycle track.

>> Do you recognise anyone in the photo or do you have any memories or pictures of the Run the World race or any other town-wide events?

If so, why not share them with Nostalgia by calling (01279) 400577, emailing star@hertsessexnews.co.uk or by sending them to Harlow Star, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW.

War wounded treated at Red Cross hospital

With the country gearing up to mark the centenary of the start of the First World War, it is worth reflecting on the role Harlow played on the homefront.

Soldiers wounded in the trenches were nursed back to health at Hillsborough House in Churchgate Street - one of many homes which was transformed into a Red Cross hospital during the course of the conflict.

The home was staffed by trained Red Cross nurses who worked with the support of the Voluntary Aid Detachment, an organisation providing nursing services.

It was equipped to treat 22 patients and even had its own operating theatre.

The photo above is from the archives of the Museum of Harlow and is believed to show some of the patients and staff at Hillsborough House.

After the war ended in 1918 the building was sold.

Pupils join veterans for D-Day memorial

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsexnews.co.uk

A GROUP of pupils and staff from a Harlow school joined war veterans on a trip to Normandy to commemorate the 70th anniversary of the D-Day landings.

Year 9 students - Rebecca Dodd, Isobel Dorkin, Charlie Dowers and Stanley Saunders - and three staff from Stewards Academy in Parnall Road accompanied members of the Hoddesdon branch of the Normandy Veterans Association at last week's service of commemoration.

During their trip they travelled to various locations including Colleville Montgomerie, Omaha beach and cemeteries at Courseilles, Hermanville and Ranville.

They also visited Pegasus Bridge and on Friday attended a service at the Bayeux War Cemetery along with the Queen and other members of the Royal Family, Prime Minister David Cameron and D-Day veterans.

Stewards' assistant headteacher Marie Erwood described the trip as the "most incredibly emotional and moving experience" for both students and staff.

"Rebecca, Isobel, Charlie and Stanley were a credit to their families, their school and the young people of our community," she said.

"Every one of us came home from the trip humbled by the scale of the sacrifices made by the soldiers on that fateful day in 1944. I will never forget the warmth of the welcome we were given by the French people."

BRUSH WITH ROYALTY: Above, Rebecca, Isobel, Charlie, Stanley and deputy head Marie Erwood with the Duchess of Cornwall and, left, with D-Day veterans

"A couple of moments are particularly etched into my memory; a French man in the supermarket who insisted on paying for all of the veterans' shopping saying it was an honour to do so and a young man with his little boy, no older than three, who explained to his son that the elderly man in the wheelchair was a hero who saved their country."

"The little boy held out his hand to the 89-year-old war veteran and then kissed him on the cheek."

She added: "We are so grateful that Stewards Academy was prepared to support a trip which appreciates that education is also about teaching young people the value of respect for the sacrifices of an elder generation."

"Our links with the Normandy veterans is long-standing and will continue to be so. We have been given the honour to venerate the past while at the same time educate the adults of tomorrow."

It's the robot that knows when you are happy

A COMPUTER firm in Japan has invented a robot which it says can tell when humans are happy or sad.

The robot, which has been named Pepper, has been fitted with an emotional engine and an artificial intelligence system which allows it to analyse gestures, expressions and voice tones. Its inventors say people can communicate with it just like they would with their friends and family and it will be able to perform various tasks.

The robot was unveiled at a press conference during which the boss of the computer firm, Masayoshi Son, told reporters: "People describe others as being robots because they have no emotions, no heart."

"For the first time in human history, we're giving a robot a heart and emotions."

Pepper is expected to go on sale to the public next year but you will have to start saving up your pocket money now if you want to buy one because it is expected to cost more than £1,000.

Exhibition provides businesses with a showcase for success

THE best of business was on show at Harlow Leisurezone this week when more than 140 companies, charities and organisations took the opportunity to show what they have to offer at this year's Harlow Business Exhibition.

Now in its fifth year, the Star-supported event gave exhibitors the opportunity to network and share ideas at what Harlow MP Robert Halfon has described as the "biggest and most successful business event in the east of England".

Mr Halfon, who officially opened the exhibition, said: "Every year, the exhibition gets bigger and bigger."

"The BBC says Harlow has the highest business growth in the UK so when we see something like the business exhibition, we can understand why."

"I am very proud to have opened it and I congratulate everyone involved including all the event's sponsors."

Harlow Council vice-chairman Ian Beckett, who was manning the Proud of Harlow stand, said: "It is a brilliant event. There is a real diverse range of people and businesses here, it is fantastic to create these links."

Ian Hudson, general manager of the Harlow & District Chamber of Commerce, said: "We were extremely pleased with the event. We think around 500 people attended during the day."

"Feedback so far has been very good and three sponsors and a dozen stands have already booked for the sixth Harlow Business Exhibition which will be held on June 9 next year."

Young Lions are not quite ready to roar

GARY LINEKER: EXCLUSIVE VERDICT FROM ENGLAND'S RECORD WORLD CUP SCORER

CLINICAL FINISHING: Daniel Sturridge shows his goalscoring instinct in the recent friendly against Denmark and, right, Adam Lallana

ENGLAND winning the World Cup in Brazil would be a staggering success, wouldn't it? I think, though, we all know that is highly unlikely and, going into the tournament, all of our expectations are reasonable.

Saying that, I think we look in a much better place than six months ago with the emergence of so many young players with lots of talent. These guys have shown in the Premier League that they can keep the ball well, which is the kind of football you need to play in a country like Brazil.

Let's be realistic – no European team has ever won the World Cup in South America and it will be very difficult for an England side that plays like we do actually to win it.

If we get to the quarter-finals then that would be a pretty good effort, and anything beyond that would be punching above our weight.

I believe England are a side very much in transition from the so-called 'Golden Generation', with most of those either finished or coming to the end of their career, and a group who have not reached their prime yet. So we have got to be realistic and sensible.

This World Cup will be about nurturing young talent, letting them off the leash and telling them to go for it and enjoy it without putting too much pressure on.

What Roy Hodgson will have with this England squad is a group of genuinely exciting young players. We have seen them nurtured brilliantly at clubs like Liverpool and Southampton.

These players are ones who are not stained by previous World Cups – they are not scarred by losing a penalty shoot-out! That could prove a big advantage and that energy they will bring to the group could be very important.

People will, of course, argue these guys do not have enough experience, but you are either an international footballer or you are not.

We have guys like Adam Lallana, who is not actually that young but has emerged recently in an excellent Southampton side. He is a beautiful footballer. He lacks a slight bit of pace, but he is wonderfully gifted with both feet and keeps the ball so well, which is so important.

Raheem Sterling is a breathtaking footballer. Liverpool manager Brendan Rodgers says he is the best young talent in Europe, and I don't think he was exaggerating as he is certainly right up there. He has shown consistency to play in a number of positions, which is incredible for one so inexperienced.

Then you have his Anfield team-mate Daniel

Sturridge, who has come on as a proven goalscorer and has that degree of arrogance which you absolutely need to score goals in that position. I think he could comfortably emerge and become a star of this World Cup.

Another player to have come on beautifully under Rodgers at Liverpool is Jordan Henderson. He is someone who has a great engine, which will be vitally important, and technically he can play.

Then you have Everton's Ross Barkley. For me, he is a massive talent.

Like Sterling, he can go past people and helps give England those things which we have been lacking. Age is not the slightest bit important if you are good enough, because within that squad you have got a couple of wise old heads around – like captain Steven Gerrard for one.

I really feel Barkley could emerge as a potential star of the tournament, and I can see certain things in his game like Paul Gascoigne. He is incredibly strong, and I think has got a similar stature to Gazza, with that ability to score amazing goals. I guess on the defensive side, yes, he is probably lacking in terms of tactical nous.

But if you play him in a certain position then that wouldn't necessarily be that important. So while I am not going to say Barkley is 'the next Gazza', I think there are two or three who could impress on the big stage as Gazza did for us at Italia 90.

But, just like for us in Italy all those years ago, things have to come together.

Things you don't find out until the tournament is whether these guys can cope with the pressures of playing against the world's greatest players, or with the unbelievable microscope which is on you, especially from your own country, even if the expectation this year is not what it has been.

A lot of our young players have not been able to cope with all that in the past, but this group seem to be coping admirably for their clubs in the Premier League, so let's find out.

Just what team Roy will put out against Italy in Manaus on Saturday remains to be seen, but while that opening fixture of a World Cup is important, history tells us you can do reasonably well without winning your first game.

I should know, because in Mexico 1986 we lost our first game to Portugal! So while it's not a must-win fixture to go through, losing it would make it very difficult to qualify out of what is always going to be a tight group.

■ Gary Lineker was talking to Jim van Wijk

Will we see a fit Roo rule at last?

THE build-up to England's 2014 World Cup campaign feels very different to that of previous tournaments.

Gone are the hype and pressure which have burdened previous squads. No longer does the nation expect a repeat of 1966; this time around there has been little discussion of what could lie in store should England reach the second round.

A tough group, containing World Cup heavyweights Italy and the attacking threat of Luis Suarez and his Uruguay team-mates, means there has arguably never been so little expected of an England team.

Instead, Brazil 2014 feels like a fresh start for the Three Lions. Gone – with the exception of Steven Gerrard and Frank Lampard – are the so-called 'Golden Generation' which turned out to be no better than those that had gone before.

The aforementioned duo add valuable experience to the squad, but it is the untied youngsters who have raised excitement levels.

It remains to be seen whether this World Cup is too soon for the likes of Ross Barkley, Luke Shaw and Raheem Sterling, but the fact that nine of the 20 outfield players selected by Roy Hodgson have 10 caps or less means they do not possess the scars of previous failures.

Success at Euro 2016 or the next World Cup seems a more realistic target, but Hodgson denies that Brazil is being used as a stepping stone along that path.

"We're not thinking about that, to be frank," he said. "The next World Cup is a long way off and this tournament means everything to us."

"Our focus is very much on this tournament and I refute any claims that some of these players have been selected because of 2016. They are selected because of 2014."

"I think they can do well, but, of course, if when we're analysing what we got out of the tournament one of the things was that some of the players have grown up a little bit, got a bit more experience, then it will stand them in good stead for the future."

In truth, the form and fitness of the players at his disposal meant Hodgson had little choice but to go with such a youthful squad. While Ashley Cole struggled to get regular football at Chelsea this season, 18-year-old Shaw was voted the best left-back in the Premier League for his performances at Southampton, forcing Hodgson's hand.

"It was a decision I had to take," conceded Hodgson after a selection call which resulted in Cole retiring from international football. "Circumstances will prove whether the decision to take the younger player is the right one or not."

But even in the worst-case scenario of an early England exit, many will believe Hodgson at least got his squad selection right and hope that any lessons learnt in Brazil will pay dividends in the future.

For England really to make an impact this summer, Hodgson must also prove he can get his team selection and tactics right. That means getting his Liverpool contingent to reproduce the form which saw them go so close to winning the Premier League and, perhaps more importantly, getting the best out of Wayne Rooney.

The Manchester United striker has barely been mentioned in the build-up to this World Cup, in contrast to the past two tournaments when he has carried the hopes of a nation.

It is a decade since he lit up Euro 2004 as an 18-year-old and, having failed to score in eight previous World Cup appearances, this could be his time to shine on the biggest stage of all.

"We have nothing to fear with Wayne," said Hodgson. "His attitude is spot on. His desire could not be better."

"Has he got the ability? Yes, he has, so it's just a case of bring on the matches and on that particular day Wayne Rooney can find the form that makes him who he is."

Having nothing to fear could be the key to this youthful England squad ending the years of hurt. You win nothing with kids apparently. And while nobody is expecting England to win the World Cup, this squad will at least hope to return with their heads held high.

Get some of that vibrant Brazilian spirit at home

You don't have to be a football fan to invite some Rio spirit into your home this season. Score a style goal with some Brazilian colour and vibrancy, says Gabrielle Fagan

TAKE bold colour, flamboyance and exotic design, shake it up and you have a winning decor cocktail.

As all eyes turn to Brazil for the football World Cup, why not be inspired by the wild spirit of the famous Rio Carnival to raise the temperature in your own home?

"When we think of carnival, we think of the colour, energy and downright joie de vivre of Rio," says Sarah Quilliam, head of product design for window blind specialists, Hillarys. "There is something about the vibrancy of it all which inspires happiness and excitement, so why not let go of your inhibitions, go 'taupeless' and bring the party to your home?"

"We recently surveyed over 1,000 people, and those who liked bold, bright colours were likely to be four times happier than those who preferred beige. People who liked red/pink, orange, yellow and blue/green were the happiest of all, so it would appear that if you want to create an upbeat, positive vibe in your home, de-beige and inject pulsating pops of happy-hued South American inspired colour into your decor, for an instant mood-brightening pick me up."

This jungle look is a natural development from the explorer trend; picture schemes featuring travellers' trunks and accessories, and global influences which capitalise on our increasing love affair with colour.

It's been embraced by designers who've created dazzling patterns and prints with leaf motifs and exotic birds (parrots are rapidly elbowing out stags as the must-have accessory), which pair beautifully with natural materials like wood, bamboo and wicker, and will last well beyond the sporting tournament.

Even if our hopes are dashed on the playing field, this bold palette will win compliments on the home front. So conjure memories of sunnier climes with carnival-like fabrics and fruit-salad shades...

PINK KICKS

Pink is synonymous with partying, fun and frivolity, and adding this sizzling shade to a decor scheme will ratchet up the 'look at me' factor. Bold colour lovers could combine it with orange.

"If your home is overdue for a makeover, consider injecting hot colour as a way to shake things up. Pick hues you love, which you'll be comfortable keeping for a good long time," says Mike Constable, managing director of JAB International Furnishings.

"If you love hot pink but can't see it splashed all over your own walls, consider painting an interesting piece of furniture or add a tablecloth in the kitchen. Gorgeous pink cushions scattered on garden furniture will heat up an outdoor space."

CARNIVAL CHOICES: H&M's home collection is packed with inspiration with its pink pattern accessories. A Floral Seat Cushion, £6.99; Multistriped Cotton Cushion Cover, £7.99, and Cotton Tablecloth, £12.99.

If you want to make an investment in pink – and a statement – opt for a piece of furniture. The DFS range is full of stylish surprises, and a great example is the Colby Patterned Accent Chair, £698, featuring fashionable zigzags in pink, orange, brown and grey.

A classic Duke Armchair by Conran, £1,199, Darlings of Chelsea, can be upholstered in a fuchsia pink, while Very's useful Luxor Sofa Bed, £269, is also available in bright pink. Take the look into the bedroom with pink patterned cotton bedding from the Gudri Collection Bedlinen range, £30-£89, Graham & Green.

WINNING DETAILS: For frivolity and decadence, it's hard to beat a Popping Pink Chandelier, £499, The French Bedroom Company.

The Guide

Bright Orange
Flamingo Cushion

Orange is reminiscent of glowing, tropical sunsets and this vibrant, citrus hue can enliven a room. "Hot orange packs a nice punch and it pairs well with warm, white oak floors. Use wallpaper or paint for an accent wall in an otherwise light and neutral space," says Constable. "Intense orange walls can be a bit too bright for some. You may want a more relaxed vibe, so smaller doses of the colour – via linens or curtains – work well."

CARNIVAL CHOICES: Bring heat to walls with a burnt orange paint. African Adventure 3, £24.49 for 2.5L from Dulux Paint Mixing's Do It Now collection. A Shade Wilder is one of my favourite wallpaper companies and has truly stunning designs – the Flamingo Beach Wallpaper in Calypso, £40 a roll, is perfect. Curtains, throws and cushions in patterned, dusty orange fabrics, teamed with browns, will easily bring an exotic, faraway feel to a space, and Hillarys Enigma Sunset patterned blinds, from its pleated collection, which cost from £161, are bang on trend. Even more exotic are Carlucci Fractions fabrics; Oasis, Nomade and Desert, from £96.90 per sqm, JAB Anstoetz.

Use carefully chosen pieces to bring warmth to a north-facing bedroom. Dress a bed with Habitat's Renwick Orange Red Matelasse Bedspread, £95, and complement with Ikea's orange Fillsta Table Lamp, £11. Debenhams Designer Bright Orange Flamingo Cushion from the Abigail Ahern Edition collection, £40, is a must. WINNING DETAILS: Zanzibar Parrot Mug, £7.50, Paperchase; bright orange towels, from £6-£13, Very.

GREEN PITCH

Palm leaf prints, flamboyant foliage and tropical birds will transport you to the jungle, and this is a stylish way to explore the colour story this year – green's one of the key colours in the Brazilian national flag.

"Deep green shades are one of the most popular colour choices right now – deep and saturated, rather than pale and wimpy – and can always be teamed with white if you want to take out some of the heat without reducing an ounce of vibrancy," says Marianne Shillingford, creative director for Dulux. "Paint up bits of furniture, like chairs and shelving, in greens or blues, which will give cohesion to a scheme and add little firecrackers of colour to help the festive atmosphere."

CARNIVAL CHOICES: Matthew Williamson's Sunbird wallpaper, £58 per 10m roll, at Osborne & Little, could set the scene with its design of bright plumaged birds contrasted with palm fronds. Alternatively, a deep Emerald Delight 3 paint, £24.49 for 2.5L, from Dulux Paint Mixing's Do It Now collection, would work well, especially combined with blue. Earthborn's Reading Room blue claypaint, £32.70 for 2.5L, is evocative of the perpetual blue skies of sun-kissed climes.

Pops of colour are bang on trend and the affordable range from Tiger means you can be lavish. Coloured Bowls, £2-£4 each, and a brightly coloured Battery Powered Light Chain, £8 (available in stores). Marks & Spencer's aptly named Rio accessories are excellent value; a Parrot Cushion and Leaf Cushion, £25 each.

WINNING DETAILS: Vetyver Green Oval Wall Mirror, £195, Pierrot et Coco, or my favourite, a Vivid Parrot Framed Print, in emerald green, £79, Artisan.

Drink up

Raise your own cup to the world's biggest football tournament by imbibing the best of Brazil

CAIPIRINHA

50ml Abella Organic Silver Cachaca, half a juicy lime, teaspoons caster sugar, mint

Muddle the sliced lime with caster sugar in a cocktail a generous scoop of crushed ice and the cachaca. Shake vigorously, strain into a chilled tumbler, top with more garnish with a sprig of mint.

Another way to get the party started, Leblon Cachaca 75cl, 40% abv, www.thewhiskeyexchange.com has ten herbal notes with tropical fruit flavours, honeysuckle, a creamy mouthfeel that goes well in a range of cocktail simple summer staple to clean the palate.

ABSOLUTELY FABULOUS

Limited Edition Absolut Rio vodka (£24.50, Sainsbury's) is dedicated to the people of Rio de Janeiro, and the vibrant combination of tropical orange, mango and passion fruit will certainly stir the taste buds in a V&T. Match this with the bottle design which is decorated with sand, the sidewalk of Ipanema and the Dois Irmaos Mountain in the backdrop and you have the perfect postcard from Rio.

Will it be triumph ... or tragedy?

Are you crazy for the World Cup or will Brazil 2014 drive you nuts? Emily Burton mulls over the competition for those people who both love and loathe the beautiful game.

THERE are some dates you just know, aren't there? The Battle of Hastings (1066), Neil Armstrong walking on the moon (apparently) (1969), The Great Fire of London (1666) and then there's 1966.

The first, last and only time that England have won the World Cup. It's the date we've heard about since we were children. The date we see in the eyes of the elders when they get that thousand-yard stare.

Most of us have no idea how winning even feels. Oh sure we've had Andy Murray. We've had Johnny Wilkinson. We've won the Ashes. There's a treasure chest of gold medals from London 2012. Sure, we've felt some sporting joy. But football? It's been nothing but cup after World Cup of tears, disappointment and our England shirts in the bin.

Four years ago this summer, the sun shone, England flags were painted optimistically on our faces and our hopes were raised once more, but then... England lost 4-1 to Germany. Our faces smudged with tears. We went home. Nothing can ruin a barbecue quite like an England World Cup loss.

Well, steel yourself England because on Thursday, World Cup 2014 kicks off in Brazil.

National tension and anticipation mounts. Will the lads have enough time to acclimatise or will they feel too hot? Will Rooney sparkle or flop? Will the venues just be muddy building sites?

Will the host city Manaus be flooded by Amazonian rains? Will everyone contract Dengue fever? What is Dengue fever? These are the questions that pray on our minds.

Whether you're a football fan, or you just plan to avoid the whole thing, it could be a tricky couple of weeks to navigate.

THE BEAUTIFUL GAME: Can we relive our former glory? Bobby Moore lifts the World Cup back in 1966 - but will we be coming home with our tails between our legs again

This could be the year our young lions come of age

By ALASDAIR GOLD
Harlow Star sports editor

WHEN it comes to England I usually veer away from the popular national opinion on the current state of the England side.

Perhaps being raised by an English father and a Scottish mother helps balance my views as each tournament comes around. I didn't get carried away with the fervour about the Three Lions' golden generation of Beckham, Lampard, Scholes, Ferdinand et al with each passing competition.

Then, just as national optimism has dissolved into pessimism at the past two tournaments, I find myself leaning in the other direction and believing this is the most exciting England side since Shearer and Sheringham left their mark on Euro 96.

For years England teams have been overloaded with big names who have struggled to play alongside each other.

Finally English football is in a place where the most exciting players are the youngest ones, somewhat akin to Germany's footballing revolution for the 2006 World Cup on home soil. The likes of Sturridge, Sterling, Wilshere, Henderson, Oxlade-Chamberlain, Shaw and Jones herald a new speedy, strong and skilful era for the England side.

My only fear is that the man who picked them might be too cautious to use them. Roy Hodgson is known for his pragmatic approach to management. While he's worked wonders over the years building tight, organised teams that upset the bigger sides, he didn't look comfortable at Liverpool with more talent at his disposal.

I hope that doesn't prove to be his downfall with England because there's one name I left out of that talented young list of Lions who needs to become the lynchpin of the national side for the Italy game and then for the foreseeable future.

Despite Roy's best attempts, he can't keep playing down the hype spreading around Ross Barkley. With each appearance in an England shirt, the 20-year-old Everton midfielder has looked more and more like the young wizard able to provide the magic lacking in recent years.

I can remember Mexico 86, but the first World Cup that really swept me up was Italia 90. As an impressionable 10-year-old Tottenham Hotspur fan there was no greater sight than Paul Gascoigne setting the world alight on the biggest stage.

It's been said before about young England players down the years, but Barkley really does represent the closest thing we've have to Gazza 24 years on.

We have our lynchpin, we have a young vibrant side and if they are given the freedom to express themselves in Brazil then we might just give the world a bit of a shock.

IT'S history, but probably not as you have ever seen it presented before.

The Pantaloons Theatre Company will be stopping off in Harlow on Sunday during their UK tour in which they present their own unique interpretation of Britain's past.

During the course of just under two hours The Pantaloons' History of Britain the cast tells the story of Britain, allowing audiences to discover a little more about some of history's most famous figures including William the Conqueror, Henry VIII and Queen Victoria.

The company was formed 10 years ago as an open-air theatre troupe, busking for donations with what they billed attention-grabbing, interactive and playful.

Founding member Mark Hayward said: "We take well-loved tales - in this case stories from history - and give them a contemporary twist, making them accessible for new audiences and showing seasoned fans something that they perhaps had not seen in them before."

"We characterise our work as post-modern folk theatre."

The latest production includes original live music, puppetry, audience participation and improvisation. Audiences are promised laughs, songs and sketches suitable for all ages.

Mark added: "The show will feature some more serious moments; there's some quite moving stuff in there that we really wanted to treat with respect.

"Of course there is also a rich vein of comedy to mine in the history of Britain and we'll be squeezing out every last drop."

Launch of art and sculpture trail marks start of summer festival

WORKS of art at more than 30 venues across Harlow, including the Star office, make up the town's first-ever art and sculpture trail.

The trail was launched last week by Gatehouse Arts, the Gibberd Gallery and the Harvey Centre.

It coincided with the start of the sixth Essex Summer of Art, an annual countywide festival which last year attracted more than £1m to the local economy. The trail is part of a programme of exhibitions, workshops and activities which will be held throughout the county until September.

The project is overseen by Essex County Council, Colchester-based visual arts organisation Firstsite and local councils in each town taking part.

Speaking at the launch, Harlow Council vice chairman Ian Beckett said: "Creativity is at the very heart and soul of Harlow and is constantly moving forward and being reimagined. One of the best ways to appreciate it is through the events organised for the Essex Summer of Arts."

Essex County Council chairman Norman Hume added: "Essex Summer of Art is an incredibly successful initiative. It is good for the economy and it is a good way to promote some of the county's leading artists and attractions."

County councillor John Jowers, cabinet member for libraries, communities and planning, added: "It is marvellous that new Essex Summer of Art trails have been developed for Harlow, a town which proudly demonstrates the county's vast cultural heritage."

The Harlow art and sculpture trail ends on Sunday. For more information on any of the Essex Summer of Art events, visit www.visitessex.com/discover/cultural/essex-summer-of-art.aspx.

Setting the stage for a Shakespeare comedy

HARLOW Theatre Company will be performing one of the Bard's best-loved comedies at the Victoria Hall Theatre in Old Harlow next month.

As You Like It has been delighting audiences for centuries and HTC promises its production will be no exception.

Director Jane Miles is planning to bring a playful concept to the play and has said the production will appeal to all audience members including children.

As You Like It follows Rosalind and Orlando who become entangled in a game of love, lust and mistaken identity.

Audiences have been told to expect cross dressing, mock wooing, fighting, music, mischief, mayhem and a little sexiness as love blossoms on stage and good conquers evil.

>>As You Like It will be performed at the Victoria Hall Theatre, in Bury Road, Old Harlow from Wednesday, July 9 to Saturday, July 12. Performances start at 7.30pm each evening. Tickets cost £11 (£9 concessions) and can be bought online at www.ticketsource.co.uk/harlowtheatrecompany.

Period drama set against horrors of the slave trade

BELLE certificate 12A 1h44m

BEAUTY is in the eye of the beholder but when that beauty defies the conventions of a prejudiced era it must stay a cherished secret.

Belle is the enchanting dramatisation of a true story of fortitude across racial and class divides at a time when pompous men of privilege were vociferously debating the end of slavery in England.

The high-profile case at the centre of the debate concerned the crew of a ship called the Zong, who had thrown dozens of slaves overboard because they did not have enough supplies for the duration of the voyage.

When the ship reached port, the Zong's Liverpool-based owners demanded compensation for the lost slaves but insurers refused to honour the claim. The subsequent trial posed uncomfortable questions about the monetary value of human life.

Captain Sir John Lindsay (Matthew Goode) brings his illegitimate, mixed race daughter Dido (Lauren Julien-Box) to England and entrusts the child to his aristocratic uncle - Lord Mansfield (Tom Wilkinson) - while he returns to sea.

Lord Mansfield's wife (Emily Watson) is opposed to the plan but he permits Dido to stay, allowing his great-niece to become a constant companion to her cousin Elizabeth (Cara Jenkins). The girls blossom and Lady Elizabeth (now played by Sarah Gadon) prepares to seek a wealthy husband.

Dido (now played by Gugu Mbatha-Raw) is afforded certain privileges by her lineage but she must remain behind closed doors at important social gatherings.

Oliver Ashford (James Norton), the handsome offspring of Lord and Lady Ashford (Alex Jennings, Miranda Richardson) is a potential love match for Elizabeth but he is more interested in Dido. However, Dido's head is turned by idealistic lawyer John Davinier (Sam Reid), who is heavily involved in the Zong case and opens her eyes to the barbarism of slavery.

Elegantly scripted by Misan Sagay, Belle is a beautifully crafted companion piece to 12 Years A Slave that traverses a moral maze through British eyes and reminds us that we, too, have blood on our hands.

The ensemble cast delivers excellent performances, particularly Mbatha-Raw who possesses beauty and vulnerability on camera. She catalyses smouldering screen chemistry with Reid, while Wilkinson brings pomp and circumstance to his pivotal role as a man with the power to chip away at the foundations of the legal firmament.

Dramatic momentum steadily builds to Lord Mansfield's deliberation on the Zong case, watched intently by Dido and Davinier. Like them, we're spellbound by his ruling.

OCULUS certificate 15, 1h43m

Scottish actress Karen Gillan, best known for her time-travelling exploits alongside Matt Smith in Doctor Who, stars as the terrified heroine in writer-director Mike Flanagan's hamfisted take on the haunted house genre.

The script unfolds in parallel timelines set 11 years apart and the boundary between fantasy and reality becomes so blurred that it's impossible to make sense of the on-screen madness until the end credits roll.

The film opens with 13-year-old Kaylie (Annalise Basso) and her 10-year-old brother Tim (Garrett Ryan) cowering in a bedroom. They open the door and see their father Alan (Rory Cochrane) prowling in a homicidal daze having just shot his wife Marie (Katee Sackhoff).

Jumping forward to the present-day, 21-year-old Tim (now played by Brenton Thwaites) is released from St Aidan's Mental Facility, having come to terms with his horrific childhood. He is released into the care of sibling Kaylie (now played by Karen Gillan), who is convinced that a mirror drove their father to murder and she has acquired the supposedly possessed looking glass with the intention of smashing it to smithereens at their childhood home.

Oculus creates nightmarish dreams within dreams within dreams, and a blood-soaked finale intentionally leaves the door ajar for a sequel.

GRACE OF MONACO certificate PG, 1h43m

The year is 1962 and it has been six years since Grace (Nicole Kidman) married Prince Rainier III (Tim Roth) and retired from acting to assume her role as glamorous figurehead of the European principality of Monaco.

Alfred Hitchcock - who directed Grace in Rear Window, Dial M For Murder and To Catch A Thief - arrives in Monaco to persuade her to play the kleptomaniac heroine in Marnie.

Closer to home, president Charles de Gaulle (Andre Penvern) intends to reclaim the principality and demands the citizens of Monaco pay their tax coffers into French pockets.

Thus Grace must choose between personal dreams and regal responsibilities, with guidance from ex-pat holy man Father Francis (Frank Langella).

Your stars with Patrick Arundell
to guide you through the week ahead

Aries 21 March - 20 April
If need be, draw upon emotional and spiritual resources to get the most out of this week. Domestic issues vie with life goals and plans for attention, yet success should not be measured in how much you get done. Instead, view things more about the quality of happiness and contentment you feel despite obstacles along the way. Call now for your in-depth forecast...

Libra 24 September - 23 October
Romance and pleasure options kick off the week, though you may be seeking something more than a chance to mix and mingle. Mercury's link with the Sun hints that conversations could hinge around ideas that truly pique your interest. However, when it comes to a personal goal, don't ignore what your inner voice is telling you. Call me now for your love scope in full...

Taurus 21 April - 21 May
With a focus on communication, the issues you're discussing with someone close might not be having the desired effect. Words can convey only so much, whereas actions can at times speak far louder. Consider what you can do over the week ahead Taurus, that can put any relationship on a new and more positive footing. Call me now Taurus for more news and astral advice...

Scorpio 24 October - 22 November
A Mars Pluto link early in the week, suggests you may be holding back regarding your feelings. Perhaps you're worried you'll say too much or get angry. However, it's just as well to clear the air, otherwise these unspoken words can gnaw away at you. As the mood softens you'll benefit from initiating more amicable conversations. Call me now for more news and astral advice...

Gemini 22 May - 21 June
You often excel at saying the right thing at the right time, especially if anyone needs a helping hand. Perhaps you're more compassionate than you realize, and may not give yourself credit for this very personable approach. Later, the focus shifts to finances where one or two shrewd decisions could make a difference to a key issue. Call for your financial forecast in full...

Cancer 22 June - 23 July
If you are attuned to this sphere, spiritual matters continue to be of importance. Meditation and quiet reflection can be remarkably healing. Dreams can also prove vivid and may hold important guidance for you. Later, the stars create a convivial vibe which can boost social options or you'll make a supportive friend or associate. Call your prediction line for more news and astral advice...

Leo 24 July - 23 August
A desire for something different is possible. This encourages experimentation around new ideas and mind-broadening activities. Yet, as Venus links with Jupiter, the chance to pool resources and talents could offer another way to make progress. Over the weekend, be sensitive to your emotional and physical needs and try to relax and recharge. Call for more news and advice...

Virgo 24 August - 23 September
If you've been forging ahead with a goal or ambitious plan, this week's blend of energies might stop you in your tracks. Mercury's backward motion suggests forgotten information may come to light which could be instrumental. Study this carefully. Later in the week, social opportunities beckon, one of which could prove advantageous. Call me now for your in-depth forecast...

Capricorn 22 December - 20 January
It can be a good week for relationships - whether romantic, business oriented or social. You seem to be surrounded by people who'll enjoy your company. The wheels of commerce can also be set in motion by conversations and connections, with exciting consequences. Later, an enhanced focus on interaction could bring a positive glow to your efforts. Call for more news...

Aquarius 21 January - 19 February
Money makes your world go round as starry influences give you a boost that could bring better times for you financially. But watch out for one option which may be unclear. Read the small print before you sign anything that involves a lot of risk. Opt to use your intuitive awareness around pecuniary matters. Break out socially later in the week. Call for your financial scope...

Pisces 20 February - 20 March
Creative thoughts seem to bubble up, and you won't be short on novel ideas to kick start a project or entertain a date. There's plenty of opportunity for romance and good times, as Venus syncs beautifully with Jupiter midweek. However, your prospects strengthen as the Sun powers into Cancer at the week's end, encouraging fun, entertainment and creative pastimes. Call for more...

THE delightfully named Gingerbread Cottage sits opposite meadows in a charming setting on the edge of Hastingwood.

The oldest part of this detached home dates back to the 17th century and has timber framed walls and a plain clay tiled roof. However, there is a two-storey extension which was built in 2013 and which matches the original structure.

There has also been a thorough programme of repair and restoration including rewiring, replumbing, a new central heating system, double glazing and LED lighting.

All of the rooms are wired for television and Sky and an alarm system has been installed.

The high quality kitchen has granite work surfaces, a slate floor and integrated appliances including a range cooker, dishwasher, fridge/freezer, microwave and 42-inch television.

The oldest part of the cottage houses a timbered sitting room with a wood burning stove. Next to it is a snug and a newly fitted cloakroom with a washing machine.

There are three good sized bedrooms. The master bedroom has an en-suite shower room while the second bedroom has an en suite bath and shower room which is shared with the third bedroom.

The property is approached through a remote controlled gate which leads to a driveway with plenty of parking space.

To the side of house there is a timber framed shed which has planning consent for a garage replacement.

Tracey Waples Property Editor

YOU'VE accepted an offer, the wheels are in motion and now it's time to get down to the paperwork involved when selling a property.

If you're new to this or haven't sold a home for a few years, you might be in for a surprise - the declaration forms are quite extensive.

At first glance the Sellers Property Information Form, the Fixtures Fittings and Contents Form and, in certain cases, the Leasehold Information Form might look like simple 'tick box' documents, but they form part of the contract of sale and unless you're honest you could risk future legal action, sometimes long after the completion date.

The purpose of the forms is to reduce buyers' risk by informing them of any issues that may be of concern and, in particular, anything that may affect the value of the property.

Naturally a seller may be worried about exposing any negative aspects of their homes and many are tempted to avoid telling a purchaser anything they may consider off-putting.

The bigger the problem the stronger the urge to hide it. But it's no good saying 'not as far as the seller is aware' as you are not just responsible for the serious defects you know about, you are also responsible for the ones you should have known about.

Disputes with neighbours, planning applications and any potential risk of flooding that may affect the property needs to be declared.

It can all seem rather serious, but legal action is relatively rare, especially over petty grievances.

However, be warned - if you do end up in court it has the potential to be very costly. If you are in any doubt, consult your solicitor.

Scrap Cars

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Chairman looks back on great HDFL season

AS Harlow and District Football League chairman Paul Groves steps down from the role he has looked back over a fascinating season, which saw Paringdon Lyon dominate, winning three trophies.

Groves said: "In my final season as chairman, I have witnessed some high quality football across all divisions, which has included three teams having finished the season unbeaten in League games – premier division champions Paringdon Lyon, division three champions Harlow Link and division four champions Rovers Return.

"We have also seen Paringdon Lyon win three trophies – the premier division title, Senior Champions League and League Cup, whilst Harlow Link and Rovers Return won the doubles in division three and four respectively.

"Another team who completed a double is Ridsen Wood B, who won two cups, the League Plate and Junior Champions League. Old Town Athletic Reserves took the division one title, Seen FC took division two and in the cups Maiden took the honours in the Premier Division Cup and FC Flare Reserves the Division Two Cup.

"Parsloe Athletic also represented the League in the Essex Junior Cup final going down 2-1 in the final to Belfry.

"A couple of games stood out this season for me, the Senior Champions League final between Paringdon Lyon and Old Town Reserves was an epic encounter at The Harlow Arena with the underdogs Old Town Reserves pushing Paringdon Lyon all the way.

"For pure excitement Seen FC when they come back from the dead versus Galacticos to win 3-2 despite being two nil down, scoring two goals in the final four minutes with a 25-yard screamer from Dale Ledain taking all three points for Seen.

"One of the moments of the season had to be in the League Plate final when Jason Scott in goal for FC Flare (A) pulled off a miracle penalty save.

"Harlow Police continue to both represent the police force well and do so much for charity – a huge well done. Three Shoes whom despite losing all 18 games this season and conceding 126 goals in the league, still showed up and played the game and deserve the respect from everyone going out enjoying a game of football each week."

Seconds seal stunning victory at promotion hopefuls

HARLOW Town twos produced a stunning win at promotion hopefuls Horndon-on-the-Hill on Saturday in the Shepherd Neame Essex Cricket League.

Horndon key man Dave Stitson showed his class with a top innings of 120 as they eased their way to 245, declaring in the 50th over.

Town lost skipper Jason Gladwin to a double fracture of the finger for 20 overs, which also stopped him from opening the batting.

Scott Alderson (20), Bilal Ali (90)

and Tim Poulter (50) all scored well.

Ali and Poulter produced some brilliant stroke play backed up with some good running and when they departed Town needed 40 from 10 overs.

Jack Elston (18) smashed a huge straight six to tie the scores and then took a single to claim victory with two overs to spare.

The Harlow Town fourth XI declared on 200-7 as they beat Upminster (173 all out) by 27 runs.

A maiden half century by George

Richardson (58) was the highlight, and he was well supported by Johan Cloete (46) and George's father Lee Richardson (35).

Man of the match George also took 3-31, capping a good all-round performance.

Tristan Rees bowled the key over, removing three batters in one over to finish with 3-20 from 10 overs.

Town completed an excellent day with a win off the last ball for the 5th XI against Horndon-on-the-Hill.

Stewart Brown was excellent in the field, taking two sharp catches and a securing a run out with a direct hit.

On Sunday, Town beat Abridge away in a friendly.

A majestic 120 from Charlie Coleman, 35 from skipper Ben Eversden and 22 from Daniel Gleeson saw Town rack up 261 from their 40 overs.

Abridge were dismissed for just 80. Daniel Gleeson bowled excellently to record his maiden five-wicket haul, finishing with 5-13.

Chiassaro's a Euro star as he beats world's best

AN athlete from Harlow enjoyed success on a global stage, while two others are set to compete in the English Schools' finals.

Harlow Athletic Club member Richard Chiassaro cemented his place as one of the favourites to lift a medal for Great Britain at the 2016 Paralympics in Brazil with a series of outstanding displays at the IPC Athletics Grand Prix in Switzerland.

Meanwhile, Harlow Athletic Club members Will Marklew and Naomi Harryman shone in Herts and Essex Schools' Championships to ensure their spot in front of the Sky cameras at the English Schools' finals at Birmingham's Alexandra Stadium.

Former Mark Hall School student Chiassaro performed superbly in the IPC Athletics Grand Prix, which doubled up as the Swiss Open Nationals, a well-known and established event for wheelchair athletes from all over the world.

Chiassaro, a Harlow Athletic Club member and T54 international wheelchair athlete, competed in the 100 metres, 200m and 400m against the other top athletes in the world: Kenny van Weeghel, Leo Pekka Tahti and Marc Schuh.

Finishing with personal bests (PBs) in all his events, Chiassaro confirmed his position as the fourth ranked athlete for the 100m and 200m in Europe.

In the 100m, he clocked 14.61 for sixth (fourth best in Europe).

He was also sixth in the 200m (25.41, and fourth in Europe).

In the 400m, he clocked 49.83 to finish in ninth, once again against the world's best.

Chiasarro told the Star: "I was nervous in Switzerland but my times are so high at the moment."

Elsewhere, Naomi Harryman (16) produced an excellent performance at the Essex Schools to win the intermediate girls long jump with a leap of 5.76m.

Harryman is ranked in the top six in the UK for both high and long jump (U-17 girls).

Rated No.3 in the high jump, she should be selected by Essex for this event at Birmingham this summer.

Marklew threw his way into selection for the English Schools finals at the Hertfordshire Schools Athletics Championships at Jarman Park, Hemel Hempstead.

The 15-year-old took gold in the javelin with a national standard throw of 54.76m.

His throw also broke the 15-year record at his school (Bishop's Stortford High School).

He also clinched gold in the shot put, with a PB of 12.61m.

"I came here aiming to throw a national standard and hopefully secure selection for the English Schools Finals. Achieving two gold medals was a nice bonus."

Back at Essex, Rosie Poole (14), a Stewards student, won a superb silver medal in the inter girls 1500m in 5:01.

Poole led all the way only to be beaten in the home straight by eventual winner Hannah Irwin from North East Essex.

Harlow chalk up first league win with two balls left of a thriller

Buckhurst Hill ..... 213
Harlow ..... 214-7
 Harlow won by three wickets (Shepherd Neame Essex League, division one)

HARLOW enjoyed their first league victory of the season by a three-wicket margin, as they chased down Buckhurst Hill's target of 214 with just two balls to spare.

Captain Rehman Ahmed had won the toss and elected to field in Saturday's Shepherd Neame Essex League division one match.

The visitors started brightly, and opening pair Russell and Reynolds put on 108 before the first wicket fell; Russell clean bowled by overseas player Ahmed Khawaja.

Khawaja then trapped Maskell lbw, and following a smart run out by Nicky Baxter, the Marigolds' fight back began, the score poised at 139-3.

Luke Heskett worked in tandem with Khawaja and together they slowed Hill's progress.

The visitors used the maximum 52 overs and finished on 214-7.

Heskett (3-56) and Khawaja (3-67) took six wickets between them.

Harlow's chase began steadily, as openers John Perry and Sukit Bastola were determined to look after their wickets.

Their early resistance came to a swift close however, as the pair were removed in the same over to put Harlow on 32-2.

This brought captain Ahmed and Khawaja to the crease.

The skipper was patient, striking a responsible 45, while his partner brought up his second half century of the season, before he was caught on 56.

Nino Calvino scored a quick-fire 19, accompanied by Imran Qadir (12), but once these two departed there was still plenty to be done at 175-6.

It was 19-year-old Anthony Webb who showed a cool head to take the Marigolds men over the line, as he finished on 27 not out.

Vice-captain Perry praised a fine team performance after the game: "Our fielding was fantastic and we kept at it, on a pitch where wickets were difficult to come by."

"We picked up late wickets and this derailed Buckhurst Hill's attempts to post a substantial total."

He also praised the 'commanding' partnership between Ahmed and Khawaja. "There were good contributions from the top order and a calm and controlled innings from Webb saw us through."

"This was an outstanding display considering some of the disappointments we have had in recent weeks and many positives are appearing."

Harlow now lie seventh in the table, 13 points clear of the drop zone.

Daniel Stone's second XI had a torrid time at Orsett as they were dismissed for 124. The opposition replied with 127-5. "It was an absolute shambles and a vast improvement is required!" Stone said.

All Hope lost but Town smiling as they hit summit in top test

HARLOW Town hit top spot in division three of the Shepherd Neame Essex Cricket League as they usurped Stanford-le-Hope by beating their rivals by 18 runs in a thriller.

Town did well to get the game on after dashing out to cover the pitch before the heavens opened in the morning.

Skipper Ashley Alderson lost the toss and Town were put in to bat.

Stanford-le-Hope were relegated last year but arrived at Ash Tree Field top of the

Harlow Tn ..... 181

 Town won by 18 runs (Shepherd Neame Essex League, division three) league, buoyed this season by the returning Ross Poulton and with the introduction of new Kiwi overseas opening bowler Dylan Eginton.

Ronnie Yates (24) put on 32 with Matt Hurley (22) before the latter was caught in the slips.

Ronnie and Joe Holland (26) took the score to 65 before Holland was dismissed lbw off the impressive Poulton (6-43).

Town were reeling at 91-7. Skipper Alderson then made a vital 43 in a brilliant stand with Ramya Upadhyay (43 not out), consolidating before launching an excellent counter-attack.

The pair put on 72 in good time and enabled Town to declare on 181-9 from 52 overs.

Greg Barr made a rapid 13 before Calver removed his off stump.

One soon became four and with only 43 on the board the game was finely balanced.

The visitors found themselves in trouble at 92-8 as wickets tumbled.

Man of the match Poulton then struck an effortless 63 but found himself running out of partners until a ninth-wicket stand of 62 with Matthew Higgins (21) dragged the game back towards Stanford.

The turning point came in the 51st over when Poulton was caught at deep long on trying to push for the win, having already scored 20 off the over.

His choice of shot was probably his only error on the day, but it proved costly for his team as once removed the innings was wrapped up with two overs to go for 163.

Calver finished with 3-21, Ashley Alderson 1-34, Upadhyay 3-22, Shaun Alderson 2-23 and Charlie Coleman 1-20.

Town sit proudly in top spot, one point ahead of Old Southendians who they play on Saturday having played one game less.

Great Curtis Cup start after Cowley nailed 45ft putt

AFTER nailing a 45ft putt on the very first hole of her debut for Great Britain & Ireland against America, you might have forgiven Harlow's Gabriella Cowley for thinking: 'It's easy this Curtis Cup lark'.

Buoyed by this astonishing shot at the St Louis Golf Club in Missouri, Cowley played superbly and only narrowly lost her two matches on the first two days' of gripping competition in the world's top team event for amateur lady golfers.

But the Americans' knowledge of the greens and how to play them proved crucial as GB&I lost the overall match 13-7.

That incredible putt was one of many highlights for 18-year-old Cowley, of Threshers Barn.

She told the Star: "In the first game I holed a 45ft putt. It gave me a lot of confidence and I played well on the first day."

She eventually lost this foursomes match with partner Eilidh Briggs 3&1.

"I prefer the foursomes because I don't have to rely on the other player, all I can do is rely on my game," she explained.

There were words of comfort from GB&I captain Tegwin Matthews after their loss. "She was obviously worried about it, we [the team] were not doing well, it was hard for her."

In her second match Cowley joined Briggs again, this time in the fourballs (where players take turns to take a shot from the same ball).

"We both played really well but the Americans were seven under par after 13 holes. They were playing unreal. It was hard."

The GB&I duo eventually lost this 3&2 to Ashlan Ramsey and Alison Lee.

However, of more concern was the terrifying weather conditions, with the golfers forced off as a tornado was due to hit St Louis (see back for full report).

"So we had to win every game [of the singles on Sunday] to win. They had already won when my match was still going on. You just have to look after yourself then," she added.

Cowley lost her singles match 5&4 and admitted she did not play as well as she can. However, it was the first time Cowley had ever played in America.

"I think we could have won it this year if we had a bit more experience. On the greens was the only place they beat us. We had a few good chances."

"We were 5-1 down on the first day. If we had got two more points it would have been a lot tighter."

The Harlow golfer was also pleased with the fans, who were not as partisan as expected.

"There were a lot of people there. The crowds were really nice, I thought they would be in your face but they were really supportive of us as well as the Americans."

Cowley and the GB&I team attended a St Louis Cardinals baseball league match, and were invited on to the pitch, with captain Matthews invited to pitch at a Cardinals player during their stay in USA.

Cowley now intends competing in the U.S Amateur Championship in October in New York. "I'm definitely going to go back there," she beamed.

Pumas on the prowl to seal double

PARINGDON Pumas celebrated a remarkable season by completing a brilliant league and cup double.

The Harlow U-14 team won their Mid-Herts Rural League division three title.

They also triumphed in the Mid-Herts Rural League Division Three Cup final at Barnet FC.

Pumas changed names from Maypole Colts after the Maypole Social Club in London Road shut down.

The team then went through the whole of last season unbeaten and only conceded 10 goals after some outstanding displays from defenders

Max Fletcher, Matty Robson, Billy Kerr and Tim Belayev, plus goalkeeper Bailey Storrar.

Co-manager Spencer Cross said: "The whole team have been outstanding all season, they have grown in maturity and strength, making it one of the most memorable seasons since the team have been playing together."

Paringdon beat Waltham Cross in the Mid-Herts Rural League Division Three Cup final at The Hive Stadium.

Paringdon went ahead through Sam Bladen.

The Pumas went 2-0 up when a 20-yard free-kick from Kerr was rifled home.

Waltham Cross halved the deficit but Ben Cross delivered an excellent corner to Fletcher, who headed the ball into the net for 3-1.

Waltham Cross made it 3-2, but Paringdon held on to secure the victory.

The team is jointly managed by Spencer and James Storrar.

"A thank you to all parents, family members and supporters who have all contributed to this amazing season and finally the players who have given us such a fantastic year, we are all very proud of what you have achieved," added Spencer.

STAR SPORT HIGHLIGHTS TWO HOCKEY COACHES WHO HAVE WON CENTRAL CONTRACTS WITH ENGLAND HOCKEY

Coach's insight into finding top players for regional centre

Headhunted duo's key role coaching national hopefuls

BY ALAN SCOTT

alan.scott@hertsessexnews.co.uk

TWO former Harlow Hockey Club players have been headhunted by England Hockey to improve the standard of coaching for young hockey players in the East region.

Bob Gotobed (54) and talented National Hockey League player Shenarda Dedic (23) have been handed central contracts by England Hockey, and will coach the coaches that train youngsters from the East region, and will also pass on their tactical wisdom to the young players themselves.

They will be based at a Junior Regional High Performance Camp in Bury St Edmunds, which will look after youngsters from Essex, Suffolk, Norfolk and Cambridgeshire.

Gotobed, of Spencers Croft in Harlow, is a hockey veteran having first played for Harlow back in 1978.

He has worked with England Hockey on the coaching education side of the game for the last 17 years.

The appointment of Gotobed and Dedic as coaching gurus for the East region is a real shot in the arm for young hockey players in Essex, who can then be earmarked for national training camps.

Gotobed explained: "We are trying to get more youngsters involved at a reasonably high level.

"Being regional coaches now, we are going to be responsible for mentoring coaches and making sure the best hockey is delivered to the players."

Dedic, of Aylets Field in Harlow, is an Old Loughtonians Hockey Club player in the Investec

BOB Gotobed believes newly-appointed contracted East region coach Shenarda Dedic can play for England.

Dedic (23), of Aylets Field in Harlow, pictured right, is a brilliant player as well as an inspirational coach.

Dedic is a forward and plays in the Investec National Hockey League for renowned club Old Loughtonians, after previously playing for Chelmsford.

"If she continues the sort of development she has shown, she still has four or five years until she hits her peak," he said.

Gotobed also believes former Harlow Hockey Club player Dedic will play an important role in the future with England Hockey on the coaching side.

"She is very young to be a National League, and has a real flair for coaching.

Gotobed believes Dedic could also go on to play hockey for England, as well as coaching in the upper echelons of England Hockey.

Dedic will look after the U-15 and U-16 age group at Bury St Edmunds, with two regional coaches and two assistants under her guidance.

Gotobed's duties will involve coaching the goalkeeping coaches and coaching the U-15, U-16, U-17 and U-18 age groups, pushing the talented ones towards the national set-up. He will be in charge of four regional coaches.

"I am going to be responsible for all the goalkeeping coaches, both sexes, from U-15s, U-16s, U-17s and U-18s. We will make sure we coach them just as England Hockey wants them coached," he said.

If successful, Gotobed hopes the pair of them will be promoted to coach national age group hockey players in the future.

He said: "To have two people from the same town [at this junior regional high performance centre] is quite something."

The duo were appointed by England Hockey coaching manager Scott McNeill.

Gotobed started coaching at Harlow in 1997, before spells coaching and playing at Broxbourne and Southend.

He has been coaching and playing at London club Havering for the last two years.

At present, Gotobed's hockey coaching is mainly at weekends as he also juggles a full-time job working in the City.

But Gotobed is hopeful this will set him on a new career path.

He hopes his new role will be a stepping stone to working with the Futures Cup and HIPAC (High Performance Camps) at national level.

"It depends how successful we are. If we do a good job, then the next progression from the regional performance camps is the Futures Cup," he said.

This would mean developing players to play for the England U-16 and U-18 teams.

"We don't know what the future holds," added Gotobed. "The Future Cup could be there for us to coach players from all over England."

Gotobed's England hopes for Shenarda

centrally contracted coach. She's a really good coach, and in Essex she has done some sterling work with the junior regional performance camp," he said.

"She develops whole teams and she works well with defenders defending well together as opposed to individually, integrating the play from defence into the forward line."

Dedic, a former student at Passmore in Harlow, is relishing her role with the East region.

She said: "The role is of great importance to me to and is one step closer to working as a performance coach for England Hockey as a National Age Group Squad (NAGS) coach for England Hockey which is my life's dream."

"The role will look at developing the coaching and coaches within the single system at Junior Regional Performance Centres.

"I will be working closely with the regional performance coaches looking to develop their knowledge and delivery of the important key areas in which England Hockey are looking to deliver around England.

"I will also be looking at talent identification of potential NAGS players within the U-15/U-16 girls age groups at the Bury St Edmunds centre."

Dedic is studying coaching badges and hopes to pass her qualifications in the next few months to become a coach educator helping to deliver national governing bodies' awards in hockey, and also as a Level 3 assessor for England.

'Get off the golf course, Gabriella – there's a tornado coming'

GABRIELLA Cowley will certainly never forget her debut for Great Britain and Ireland in the Curtis Cup in the USA – after being forced off the course when a tornado threatened to strike the St Louis complex.

The 18-year-old, of Threshers Barn in Harlow, admits she had never seen anything like it as a nine-hour delay on Saturday disrupted the world's top competition for amateur lady golfers. Play was eventually suspended and completed the following day.

The USA eventually triumphed 13-7 in the competition which is run along exactly the same format as the Ryder Cup competition.

But Cowley will not forget the memory of Saturday, when thunder and lightning, plus a tornado in the Mid-West state of Missouri, made organisers start to panic.

"It was really scary," said Cowley. "There was a tornado warning. It was meant to come in our direction. We just came off the course and went to our team room."

"As the tornado got worse, they said we might need to go under ground but we didn't in the end. It just went away."

"There was a nine-hour delay. We got to the golf club at 6am and did not get home until half eight [pm]."

"I had never experienced anything like that before. Some of the girls had played out there but had never seen it as bad as that."

Cowley, the second youngest in the GB&I team, played a match on the first day on the Friday, losing 3&1 with Eilidh Briggs to the USA's Erynne Lee and Annie Park in the afternoon foursomes.

She played another match on the Saturday, losing 3&2 to Eilidh against Ashlan Ramsey and Alison Lee.

On the Sunday, she went down 5&4 to Annie Park in her singles match, but by that stage USA had already won.

GB&I have only ever won this competition once on USA soil. It has been played since 1932.

Cowley said: "It was really good. I played really well for the first two days."

"The putting was not so good but that wasn't the only reason she beat me [in the singles]."

"In America the greens are big, really slopy [sic]. They are really hard to get used to."

"We went around the week before but the Americans have been there the whole time."

Cowley now hopes to keep her pace in the GB&I team when the Americans return to try and retain the cup in Europe in two years' time. "We felt we could have won it this time," added Cowley.

Schools' key role to make hockey stick

As the sport flounders in Harlow, coaching guru calls for a rethink

COACHING guru Bob Gotobed has called on more secondary schools in Harlow to support hockey – and reignite the sport in the town.

Gotobed (54), of Spencers Croft in Harlow, and 23-year-old Harlow player Shenarda Dedic have just been appointed on central contracts to coach young hockey players from the East region at a junior high performance centre (see inside).

He says he has grown hugely frustrated by the lack of support for hockey from schools in Harlow which have installed 3G artificial pitches, unsuitable for hockey.

Mark Hall, Stewards and Passmores have all introduced expensive artificial football pitches in recent years.

Harlow Hockey Club was forced to move outside the town after the loss of its expensive, purpose-built pitch at the old Passmores School site in Tendring Road.

From being a thriving club 10 years ago, membership at Harlow HC has dwindled as players are faced with 10-mile round trips to Sawbridgeworth, where the club is now based and has to pay fees which cost far more than those they paid at the old site, which has now closed down.

Gotobed, a former first team goalkeeper and stalwart hockey coach who started playing at Harlow HC in 1978, said: "Harlow Hockey Club cannot play in Harlow because there is no longer an Astroturf suitable in Harlow.

"They are having to pay huge sums of money to play at Sawbridgeworth. Harlow needs a new facility. I have seen some very good players come out of Harlow but they have got no choice but to go somewhere else."

"In Shen's case, she is a very good player but had to change clubs in order to progress."

"Hockey is a brilliant sport. I would love to see more of it happen in Harlow. When I used to run hockey days in schools in Harlow, I saw some really good players and we need to get them a club."

Gotobed admits Harlow HC was not helped by being so close to some top clubs, including Old Loughtonians, Broxbourne and Bishop's Stortford.

"It's very frustrating for me having been a part of the club for a very long time. I felt I had to move on in order to have a useful role, and until there is a facility or a school that will properly embrace the sport I cannot see how we are going to build hockey back up in the town," he said.

"Only schools playing hockey can feed into a club. Saffron Walden has the County High, Bishop's Stortford has Bishop's Stortford College and Hockerill. That all feeds into Saffron Walden and Bishop's Stortford hockey clubs."

"I think Harlow [Hockey Club] has struggled and lost a lot of players last year. There's only two ladies [sides] and one men's team now. We need someone going into the schools and promoting playing hockey – that's the way clubs are going to survive in the future."
